The 70th edition of the Spa 24 Hours, the most important event on the 2018 calendar, will be held next weekend and it will be the sixth consecutive year for Andy Soucek taking part in this prestigious race.

Soucek and his fellow Bentley Boys in the #8 Continental come to Spa with very posiitve vibes after several encouraging test sessions held at the Belgian track, with the car running for up to 32 hours in a row, showing very good pace and endurance.

Soucek already has an ample and succesful experience here, after finishing P4 in 2016 and P2 last year, so there is every reason to be optimistic for this year's event.

Furthermore this race will count towards two different Championships: points for the Blancpain GT Series will be awarded after six, twelve and 24 hours, and the final Race result will also count towards the Intercontinental GT Challenge.

As always at Spa, weather may play an important factor during the race. For the moment, the prediction shows rain for Saturday and a dry track for Sunday, which will add to the challenge of the 24-hour Race.

The Free Practice and Qualifying sessions will take place on Thursday, and the final "Superpole" on Friday at 19:10 CET.

The Spa 24 Hours will start on Saturday at 16:35 CET.

A livestream will be available at http://www.blancpain-gt-series.com/live

Eurosport will offer several live connections during the Race, the schedule being as follows (all times CET):

Saturday

16:15 to 17:45 Eurosport 2 (first hour of the race)

22:00 to 23:25 Eurosport

Sunday

08:30 to 10:00 Eurosport

14:45 to 17:45 Eurosport 2 (last two hours of the race and podium ceremony)